Pall Mall Gazette:—"Nowadays publishers appear to vie with each other in giving to their re-issues of books at low prices all the characteristics of true excellence; and, so far, nobody has succeeded better than Messrs. Blackwood in their Cabinet Edition of George Eliot's Works. . . A clear and well-arranged page, fine paper, and sound binding make this edition so good a one that it would be pronounced excellent, apart from all considerations of cost."

THE HISTORY of ANTIQUITY.

From the German of Professor MAX DUNCKER. By Dr. EVELYN ABBOTT. In 6 vols., demy 8vo, £6 6s.; or each vol. separately, 21s. The Sixth and Concluding Volume has just been published.

EXTRACT FROM THE AUTHOR'S PREFACE.

"My narrative embraces those independent civilisations of the ancient East which came to exercise a mutual influence on each other. First we follow the kingdom on the Nile and the kingdoms of Hither Asia as far as the point where the nations of Iran began to influence their destinies. Then I attempt to set forth the peculiar development of the Aryan tribes in the valleys of the Indus and the Ganges, down to the times of Ishandragupta and Azoka. Then follows the history of the Bactrians, the Medes, and the Persians, until the period when the nations of the tableland of Iran were united by Darius with the countries of Western Asia, when Aryan life and Aryan civilisation have gained supremacy over the whole region from Ceylon to the Nile and the Hellespont. The forms of life among the kingdoms of Asia are finally brought face to face with the more youthful civilisation attained by the Hellenes in their mountain cantons. This new development we follow down to the first great shock when East and West met in conflict, and the Achaemenids sought to crush the Hellenes under the weight of Asia. With the failure of this attempt my history of the ancient world concludes."

THE HISTORY of GREECE,

From the Earliest Time down to 337 B.C. From the German of Professor ERNST CURTIUS. By A. W. WARD, M.A. In 5 vols., demy 8vo, with Index, £4 10s.; or each vol. separately, 18s.

"A history known to scholars as one of the profoundest, most original, and most instructive of modern times." Globe.

"We cannot express our opinion of Dr. Curtius' book better than by saying that it may be fitly ranked with Theodor Mommsen's great work."—Spectator.

THE HISTORY of ROME,

From the Earliest Times to the Period of its Decline. By Professor THEODOR MOMMSEN. Translated (with the Author's sanction, and Additions) by the Rev. P. W. DICKSON. With an Introduction by Dr. SCHMITZ.

The POPULAR EDITION, in 4 vols., crown 8vo, £2 6s. 6d.; or sold separately—Vols. I. and II., 21s.; Vol. III., 10s. 6d.; Vol. IV., with Index, 15s.

Also, a LIBRARY EDITION, in 4 vols., demy 8vo, £3 15s. These volumes are not sold separately.

"A work of the very highest merit; its learning is exact and profound; its narrative full of genius and skill; its descriptions of men are admirably vivid. We wish to place on record our opinion that Dr. Mommsen's is by far the best history of the decline and fall of the Roman Commonwealth."—Times.

"This is the best history of the Roman republic, taking the work on the whole—the author's complete mastery of his subject, the variety of his gifts and acquirements, his graphic power in the delineation of natural and individual character, and the vivid interest which he inspires in every portion of his book. He is without an equal in his own sphere."—Edinburgh Review.

THE HISTORY of the GREAT FRENCH REVOLUTION, from 1789—1801.

LANG, M.A., Author of "The Odyssey of Homer done into English," "Theocritus, Bion, and Moschus," "Ballades in Blue China." Wide fcap. 8vo, hand-made paper, 8s. 6d.

"Mr. Lang's volume is likely to be a favourite with lovers of narrative verse. It is sustained in sweetness and in power, and its versification is happy throughout. Instances of delicate and dainty workmanship may be advanced, and the whole is charged with Greek feeling."

Athenaeum.

"Mr. Lang is a poetical craftsman of such merit that it is almost superfluous to say of any work by him that it is marked by a delicate sense of metre and by classical scholarship widened and fortified by comprehensive knowledge of other literature."—Academy.

NEW NOVEL BY THE AUTHOR OF "THE CHAPLAIN OF THE FLEET."

ALL SORTS and CONDITIONS of MEN: an Impossible Story. By

WALTER BESANT. Illustrated by Fred. Barnard. 3 vols., crown 8vo. At every Library. "Like its numerous predecessors, eminently bright, readable, original, and charming; a book to be read with unalloyed pleasure, and to be closed with regret—the regret being, however, pleasantly tempered by that sense of satisfaction which is always given by work which is in every respect well done, which from beginning to end one would not have other than what it is. . . . There cannot be any doubt that it is altogether refreshing and delightful."—Academy.

"A work of striking originality of design. . . . Mr. Besant's vivacity and humour, which often rise to pathos and never sink to caricature, tinge the whole story, and make even his most serious passages delightful. . . . It is, perhaps, the greatest point of Mr. Besant's marked success that he has written a novel with a purpose, and contrived to make it as lively an sparkling and any reasonable reader could wish."—Athenaeum.

"Equal to the best of all the good work we owe to these clever authors in partnership. Perhaps, indeed, not even 'Ready Money Mortiboy' or 'The Monks of Thelema' ranks so high as 'All Sorts and Conditions of Men.' . . . All this is as charming as a fairy tale, and, at the same time, full of the truest human interest. . . . We commend it to every reader who knows how to enjoy a novel which is as sound in its morals as it is dainty in its art. . . . Perhaps the most pathetic chapter in the whole book, and one that could hardly have been written better by George Eliot herself—the Apostle of Heroism-in-the-Commonplace—is that which tells how pretty Nelly Sorensen gave up her love for Harry Goslett; but Nelly's love story is only an undercurrent in a novel which is admirable in all its parts and all its characters."—Weekly Dispatch.

NEW NOVEL BY THE AUTHOR OF "A FRENCH HEIRESS IN HER OWN CHATEAU."

VALENTINA. By Eleanor C. Price. 2 vols., crown 8vo. At every

Library. "Valentina" has the rare qualities of subtlety and refinement. . . . The extreme delicacy and completeness with which the central figure has been conceived, the care with which her surroundings have been selected and arranged, and the reticence with which the whole scheme has been treated place the work very high in the rank of modern novels. . . . The pathos of the closing scene is penetrating. The book is full of clever sketches and adroit character drawing, to which attention may be given when a first reading has assuaged the interest attaching to the chief figure. Miss Price's last novel should place her reputation as a writer very high. Her previous publications were full of indications of promise, and more than promise; but 'Valentina' is a performance of exquisite and finished simplicity, covering a maturity of talent both rare and distinguished."—Daily News.
